Extension activities during Covid-19 Pandemic

Rangapara College reaches the community in times of need and crisis. During the time of COVID-19 Pandemic faculty and the students of the college tried their best to extend their helping hands to the needy people of neighbourhood community by different ways. In this respect apart from the NSS Unit of the college, the faculty and students of the college performed their best to help the poor people of the community who became jobless. The college authority consented for using the college as Quarantine facility Centre and the faculties were engaged in various duties during this period of crisis.
